

Edgenda – Jacques Robillard, CTO

Dear Madam, Dear Sir,

As a technology firm, we are in a very good position to appreciate the relevance and effectiveness of a product like Hector. That's why we take the time to share our experience with you.

Edgenda has been using Hector for over a year and we are very pleased with the results. As a follow up to the launch of our ISO 27001 and ISO 9001 certification, we needed a simple and agile inventory product to manage our information assets. These included our IT assets and our data center assets.

All of our technical staff quickly noticed the benefits of using Hector and its ability to better organize us. By turning to a cloud-based solution like Hector's, we were able to benefit from a simple and pleasant experience. Hector has allowed us to increase our efficiency in managing our inventories and to quickly save money by eliminating several manual tasks often associated with this type of recurring activity. With Hector, our inventories are constantly up to date, which allows us to better control our depreciation while reducing our equipment losses.

As the CTO of Edgenda for over 10 years, I am very comfortable recommending Hector as a technology value add for organizations.

Kind regards,

Jacques Robillard, CTO
